Road Long in Dispute Ordered Open by Supervisors.

WANDERING AIMLESSLY ABOUT

New Hope for the Richmond and Urbanna Railroad—Oyster Meat Stays at Same Price.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Nov. 10.—Dr. W. B. Rowe, of Aberdeen, Md., arrived here last night and to-day left for his home with his son, Walter Wade Hampton Rowe, who had been found near here, coatless and hatless, wandering aimlessly about, suffering with paralysis. Dr. Rowe had offered $100 reward for the young man, when he was missed from his home and this amount was promptly paid over by him to be distributed among those who were concerned in finding the stranger and in caring for him and notifying his father.

A road near Ely's Ford, in Spotsylvania county, which has been in litigation for a number of years and has caused considerable bad feeling among neighbors and even brothers, has finally been declared a public highway by the Board of Supervisors after a legal fight before the board, between the counsel for those advocating it as a public road and those opposed to opening it. The Board of Supervisors ordered that all gates and obstructions be removed and that the road be considered as a public highway. It is stated that an appeal will be taken to the Circuit Court.

The hope for the erection of the Richmond and Urbanna Railroad has been revived with all elements of Essex and Middlesex counties by letters received from the promoters, stating that the survey will certainly be commenced this month and that the construction will begin as speedily as possible after the survey is completed. There have been so many disappointments in connection with this and other similar projects in that part of the State that the people are very skeptical.

Oystermen claim that oyster meat is the only one that has not been advanced in price in the last twenty-five years. It is said that the shippers on the Rappahannock got the same price for oysters now that they received a quarter of a century ago and yet they have to pay nearly three times as much per bushel for the same grade of oyster oysters that they did years ago. So while oyster meat may have advanced in price to the consumers, the planters are getting no more than formerly.

Material is being put in place for the erection of a new bank at Heathsville in the Northern Neck, which will make the fourth or fifth bank in that section. It is thought that the business of this bank will interfere with that of the bank of the neighboring banking institutions.

JOHN INGE'S SLAYER.

Constable Wright May Yet Go Before the Grand Jury.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 10.—Despite the fact that three magistrates of Campbell county dismissed the case after a preliminary hearing, Constable James T. Wright, who shot and killed John Inge, near Lynchburg about six weeks ago, may be indicted by the grand jury of the county, which convenes at Rustburg on Monday of next week.

CHESTERFIELD.

Will Admitted to Probate—Supervisors to Meet.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHESTERFIELD COUNTY, Va., Nov. 10.—The will of the late Joseph W. Johnson, of this county, was admitted to probate before the county clerk yesterday. Mrs. Annie M. Potts, of Richmond, the principal beneficiary under the will, qualified as executrix, giving bond for fifteen thousand dollars.

The county supervisors will meet at Chester Saturday to view the location of a railroad crossing asked for by the citizens of that place.

A civil service examination for rural delivery mail carriers will be conducted here Saturday.

Mr. F. J. McMahon has begun the masonry and concrete work under Swift Creek bridge, preparatory to putting in the new steel bridge, which will probably be completed and in place by Christmas.

Tent Forcibly Moved.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 10.—It is hardly probable that the removal of the tent of the Seventh Day Adventists, in which they are holding their services at Naruna, Campbell county, in September, will be brought to the attention of the grand jury of that county, because the ministers who were holding the meetings do not care to press the charge.

It will be recalled that this tent was forcibly taken down by the sheriff, Messrs. Izen, who afterwards ordered Elders

MACHINISTS ARE OFF FOR RUSSIA

Fifteen Leave Newport News With Submarine Constructor.

TWO BOATS ALREADY THERE

Conference of Deep Water Railway Representatives at Newport News.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., November 10.—E. L. Peacock, constructor for the Lake Torpedo Boat Company, left to-day with fifteen expert machinists for New York city, en route to Russia, to put up the two submarine boats which left here some time ago in sections, and which were transferred to the Hamburg-American liner Belgravia in New York. Two more boats now being constructed here also are supposed to be for Russia.

They are nearing completion, and are expected to be ready for shipment in two weeks. They also are being built in sections. Next Monday one of the Lake boats will be tested in the harbor here.

William N. Page, chief engineer of the Deepwater Railway Company; E. W. Knight, of Charleston, W. Va., and William J. Payne, president of the local railway line, were in conference here to-day. While those interested refused to say anything for publication, it is known that they called in L. B. Manville, superintendent of the Old Dominion Land Company, and former Mayor A. A. Moss.

It is believed that the conference was for the purpose of discussing the advisability of locating the eastern terminals of the Deepwater Railway in this city.

CHURCH DEDICATION.

People Pour Out Their Money to Lift Church Debt.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HALLWOOD, ACCOMAC CO., Va., Nov. 10.—Last Sunday morning the new Baptist church recently built in this village, and a great assemblage to witness the exercises. The new house is an ornament to our town, and has been erected through the loyal devotion and cheerful sacrifices of the church people.

Dr. Hatcher, who seems to be sought after for nearly all the dedications of new Baptist churches on the Eastern Shore, had been engaged months ago to preach the sermon of dedication. He was ably supported in the service by the much admired pastor of the church, Rev. R. S. Monds; Rev. Joseph D. Harte and Rev. L. M. Gohland. The work was largely congregational, but it was finely led by a choir of trained singers, which also furnished several stirring quartettes during the several meetings of the day.

The printed programme called for the dedication prayer at the end of the sermon, which was heard with great interest by the great throng which packed the house, but the pastor had already announced that there was a debt on the house amounting to about $300, and Dr. Hatcher expressed a wish that the debt should be provided for before the prayer.

It was a sight indeed to see how many people poured out their money. When the collection reached nearly eight hundred dollars, six persons arose and asked that they might take care of the rest of the debt. The people seemed in raptures over the result, and after the prayer there was much rejoicing and happy congratulation.

Dr. Hatcher addressed another immense congregation at night. He made a fervent appeal in favor of Christian education, and warmly commended Richmond College as one of the great schools of the country.

Fired Into a Crowd.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
SUFFOLK, Va., Nov. 10.—Because his wife would not quit her job in a peanut field, and ordered, Marlin Martin, colored, of Southampton county, became enraged and began firing a revolver into a crowd of peanut pickers, causing a stampede. Martin drew a revolver, one ball wound his wife in her arm and another struck Sydney Williams, colored, on the head. Neither wound was dangerous. The bullet which hit Williams' head was flattened, but made little impression. Martin escaped and has not yet been captured.

Beware of our imitators!

We are the only distillers in this country selling direct to consumers. Like every success, we have imitators who "claim" to be distillers. They are not distillers and have no connection with a distillery. For proof, you need not take our word. Just see government reports. They are simply dealers, and can "doctor" their whiskey as much as they like and call it any age, for unfortunately the government does not control dealers as it does distillers. Now, these dealers are in business for profit, so when they offer eight to twelve-year-old whiskey for the same or less money than we, as distillers, can sell seven-year-old, the inference is plain. Their whiskey is not the age they claim and is adulterated and watered. The cheaper they sell, the more water and adulteration you get. Beware of imitators. If you want honest whiskey direct from our own distillery to you, with all its original strength, richness and flavor, carrying a UNITED STATES REGISTERED DISTILLER'S GUARANTEE of PURITY and AGE and saving the dealers enormous profits, then accept our offer, which is backed by a company with a capital of $500,000.00 paid in full, and the proud reputation of thirty-six years of continuous success. We have over a quarter of a million satisfied customers. Your money back if you're not satisfied.

Rev. A. M. Randolph, bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, in a message, at St. Stephen's Church, ordained to the diaconate two young colored candidates, Robert Tabb, of Blackstone, Va., and Roger James, of Lawrenceville, Va., both of whom have recently graduated at the Bishop Payne Divinity School in this city. The candidates were presented by Rev. Dr. O. S. Bunting, and the ordination sermon was preached by Archdeacon Russell, of Southern Virginia.

The ladies of the Organ Guild at St. John's Episcopal Church gave an afternoon social to-night for the benefit of the organ fund. The entertainment was largely attended, and a beautiful programme of vocal and instrumental music was rendered.

It is reported here that some local Republicans will strongly oppose the reappointment by the President of certain men now holding important Federal offices.

Several robberies were committed here early this morning by thieves supposed to be following the circus, but very little booty was secured. The office of Mr. Spencer Vaughan, on Union Street, was broken into and a few papers and stationery taken, and the windows of two stores on Sycamore Street were also broken, but very little was stolen.

VIRGINIA AND THE NAVY.

'Varsity Eleven Limber Up for Contest With the Middies.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHESAPEAKE, Va., Nov. 10.—Virginia's final practice before the annual contest with the Naval Cadets at Annapolis on Saturday, Nov. 13, will be held this afternoon in a drizzling rain. The 'Varsity was lined up against the scrub for two short periods. During the first, the showing made was very satisfactory, the work of the backs being good, especially on the defensive.

The second half of the game will be practically the same as that against the Carlisle Indians in Norfolk a fortnight ago. Branch Johnson, however, may be taken from guard to center, replacing Beckett, and a substitute may have to fill Spears' place at left guard, as Paul Pollock may exclude the latter from entering the contest. Otherwise the men will play as follows:

Thompson, of Georgetown, will referee the contest, and Sharp, of Yale, will umpire. Wesley Abbott, of Yale, will be head linesman.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHATHAM, Va., Nov. 10.—A serious fire was narrowly averted in the Presbyterian Church Wednesday night. Prayer meeting was just over. Hore, one of the brightest physicians in this section of the State, dropped dead at his home in Brentsville, the former county seat of Prince William county, this afternoon.
